CANTON — Aultman Hospital has earned two performance awards from a national health care information company.

Aultman received “Best in Value” and “Best in State” awards on Data Advantage’s 2009-10 Hospital Value Index awards li

Aultman’s composite score ranked among the top tier of all hospitals nationwide and in the top 10 percent for Ohio, with hi affordability, efficiency and patient satisfaction, according to Data Advantage.

“Earning this recognition demonstrates our commitment to excellence from every part of our organization — physicians, er managers and our board of directors,” Aultman President and CEO Edward J Roth III said in a statement.

The Hospital Value Index is a performance indicator focusing on the value hospitals provide to their community.

The index took data from approximately 4,500 general, acute-care hospitals, serving approximately 30.1 million consumer by its success in four critical areas: quality, including patient safety and readmission rates; efficiency, including the cost to services; affordability, a comparison of service prices; and patient satisfaction.
